Using the grid above, change this sentence from formal English to Shakespearean English:

Listen! You shall not go tonight.

Now write your own everyday ('colloquial') English sentence below:

Slang is the lowest type of everyday language (e.g.; 'awesome' and 'dude'). It can include deliberately misspelt words (like 'c'mon').

Write your own 'slang' sentence below. (Don't be afraid to use rap!)

Now convert your slang sentence into Shakespearean English. (I dare thou!)
